DEDICATION

The 1987 yearbook staff would like to thank Mrs. Carolyn Raiford for her outstanding service to Mill River. Mrs. Raiford teaches the sciences and has developed the Advanced Biology Program. She graduated from Bringham Young University with a B.S. and has done graduate work plus 40 hours at Tulane and Castleton. Through her devotion to teaching, she has made our school years more enjoyable. Thank you, Mrs. Raiford.

IN RECOGNITION OF SERVICE

Mill River would like to thank Mr. Fallar for his invaluable work in the A.V. department. He is retiring this year after twelve years of service at Mill River. Prior to coming to Vermont, he spent eighteen years as an industry development technician on Long Island. We appreciate his efficiency in providing A.V. equipment and making our education more meaningful. Good luck and thank you, Mr. Fallar!

OFFICIAL YEARBOOK MASCOT

By unanimous decision the SPIRIT 1987 staff has selected Opus, Bloom County's hefty-nosed penguin, to become our yearbook mascot. Opus first appeared in the 1986 yearbook (p.88) and since then has risen to occult status among Mill River students. More than one staff member finds it difficult to make it through another pressure-filled day without receiving a daily dose of laughter from their hero. It is in recognition of his indirect help to the yearbook that we bestow upon him this honor.

Seniors

1987

Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1987

We, the seniors on the 1987 yearbook staff, are leaving many things:
to next years physics class — a Spanish/English dictionary to Mr. Probst — a new collection of ties (to be shared with Mr. Fillioe) to Mr. Marsh — the question "Why?," more specifically "Why US?"
to Mr. Harlow — the answer "42"; we don't know the question to Ms. Sullivan — a new AMERICAN car to replace the Toyota to Mrs. Raiford — the phrases "Thing-va-leer," "F.R.A.," "Wait 'til '88," "crAYfish," "Oust Madeleine '86," "Hank and B.Y.U," "Bernie '86," "Ma'am," "Oooooo, Ahhhhh, Ohhhhh," "4 more years," "Fritz is the Pits!," "the Middlebury Sinclinorium," "extra credit??," "colored chalk," "Maine beach party," "Carp's buuuddiiees," "we looovvve science fairs" and "we could spend a whole semester, no our ENTIRE lives, on this!"

I, William Merone, leave the yearbook, and all of the headaches that go with it, to those fantastic sophomores who were on the SPIRIT '87 staff, may God help you! Also, I leave a remembrance of my hopes and dreams of having Bernard Sanders as president to ma'am — we want Ronnie's job!

I, Alex Ball, leave my ability to tell bad jokes, smoke offensive cigars, and just be a general pain-in-the-butt to anyone who has friends that are as tolerant as mine.

I, Chris Cooper, leave my ability to "hablar espanol" and my knowledge of the sciences to my brother Scott; Lord knows he's gonna need it!

I, Jeff Hance, leave all of my head-rubbing skills to Johnny Stevens and also I leave half of my full head of hair to any administrators over 40 who need it! I'm not going to mention names — if you need it, claim it.

I, Joel Korzun, leave my tremendous speed, strength, and leaping ability to my less athletically endowed sister Diantha; everybody knows she needs it!

I, Matt "FRA" Bidgood, leave Mrs. Raiford with the thought "Wait 'till '88!" and I leave my incredible acting ability to Bruce Clarke, who desperately needs it.

I, Janet Kennedy, leave my addiction to Cool Ranch Doritoes to Penni Chuderski.

I, Glenn Cuttitta, leave my soccer scoring ability to any new varsity halfback.

I, Jillian Austin, leave my unique automotive control abilities to my DARLING brothers Eric and Joe.

I, Todd Knapp, leave my ability to hang out in the R.C. to the Junior class.

I, Pamela Morris, leave my ability to boss people around to my sister Diane.

I, Nicole Guimonds, leave my Bronx-Bomber to Carri Carrara.

I, James Carr, hereby leave my entire weight set and my body to Richard Snelling in hopes that he takes up a real sport and gets a real body.

I,Amanda Webby, leave my little nose to my little brother (you'll miss me).

I, Daniel Heleba, leave my Honda Four Trax 250 to Greg Gettel.

I, Dawn Jenkinson, leave my English accent to Bruce Clarke.

I, Sabrina Kurant, leave all my love and understanding to my younger sister Jennie, and I leave my ability to do French homework (correctly) to Josh Roach.

I, Louise Upton, leave Julie Rabtoy all the Five Alive that she can drink.

I, David Fox, leave my parking place to Todd Allen.

I, Greg Lord, leave Tara Trombly my ability to get through school witfiout doing any homework what-so-ever.

I, David Allen, leave my ability to party to Betsy Sulham.

I, Jill Tyminski, leave my famous gourmet hot dog recipe to Sara Silcox.

I, Erika Rodgers, being of unstable grey matter, leave whatever to whomever.

I Wally Fabian, leave my running and jumping ability to my brother Dean and I also leave "Bertha" to an underclassman who needs a car bad enough to take it.

I, Keith Brower, leave my ability to raise questions to anybody who asks questions.

I, John Edwards, leave my ability to talk and hang around to my sister Tammy.

I, Matt Amstein, leave evrything that I received from the past Senior class — zip.

I, Kim Wilson, leave my D average in Pre-Calc to Todd Sedowski.

I, Joey Merrick, leave my buddies to Molly Patten.

I, Jennifer Merrill, leave my ability to get around and pick on Mr. Giles to Karen Stevens and Tammy Pratt.

I, Jeff Durkee, leave my driving ability to my cousin Stacy.

I, Terri Bagley, leave Allison Ionnetti the ability to be dumb.

I, Glenn Abare, leave my cars to Tracy Feitshans.

I, April Lee, leave my ability to get into trouble to my brother Corey.

I, B. J. Stone, leave my precious Dodge Dart to Lee Tyminski.

I, Donald Nichols, leave my shooting ability to Travis Kennedy.

I, Tracy Vaccaro, leave my extra small frame to Erin Chuderski.

I, Ron Gottier, leave my abilities to think and to pick on Mr. Brownell to Tracy K.

I, Frederick O'Connor, leave Brent Gile $5.00 to get a real haircut.

I, Stacy Alderman, leave my long legs to Betsy Sulhan.

I, Christine Burney, leave my ability to make it through high school to Kim Gurney.

I, Janet Lemieux, leave all of the books and homework to my brother Bobby.

I, Jeff Guyette, leave nothing because I'm taking it all with me — so there!

I, Laurie LaFrancois, leave my skillful driving ability to Carrie Carrara.

I, Christopher Knipes, leave my ability to lose car keys to my brother Brian.

I, Cara Burnett, leave my ability to understand physics to my brother Bart.

I, Bryce Taylor, leave my giggle to Jill Johnstone and my Rush fanaticism to anyone who wants it.

I, Tina Potter, leave my sisters and brother a good high school year at Mill River.

I, Richard Ackert, leave my attitude problem to Jody Fuller.

I, Tommy Jones, leave my love to Jenny Osborne.

I, Roy Carpenter, leave my late nights of "INTENSE STUDY" to my sister who goes to bed after dinner and I leave the "wolf" to anyone who can catch him.

I, Greg Rampolla, leave my cigarettes to Randy Ethier and I leave my Firebird to whoever can handle or afford it.

I, Cheryl Lampiasi, leave my accidents and speeding ticket to Brian Baker; Lord knows he deserves them — you can take Bessy too, in place of Betsy, mine runs!

I, Wendy Savery, leave all my evil powers to Jill Johnstone.

I, Dara Zuckernick, leave my ability to pay attention in Pre-Calculus class to Catharine Watson and I also leave my chemical warfare pants to Patrick Buckley.

I, Christy Ploof, leave my "hanging-out" ability to Tammy, my sisters, and Heather.

I, Kenneth Birdsey, leave my driving ability to Alana Congdon.

I, Raymond King, leave all of my pens and pencils to Dan Prescott and Mike Martin.

I, Brett Marquis, leave Bucky Johnson my outstanding gold swing and I also leave Dan Stout my mysterious charm with women.

I, Gary Chapin, leave my ability to make it through class to Crystal Staples.

I, Glen Grusmark, leave my seat at lunch to Danny Stout.

I, Tracy Vandenburgh, leave the Baccalaureate cake of 1986 to Mr. Norm Stevens.

I, Tracy Lambert, leave my ability to use crutches to anyone who may need them and also I leave my ability to make it through high school to my brother Chris.

I, Pete Luther, leave my drafting ability to Brent Gile.

I, Stacey Parker, leave my ability to make people laugh to anyone who wants it!

I, Melissa Mack, leave all of my happiness to whichever underclassman needs it.

I, Michelle Johnson, leave my ability to make people laugh to my brother A.J.

I, Michael Gallipo, leave my charm, good looks, and intelligence to Wayne Holder, God knows he needs it, and I also leave the check of our "dinner bet" to Dara Z.

I, Stephane Poissant, leave my ability to charm girls to Bucky.

I, Cheryle Guyette, leave my (almost) perfect attendance record to Charlene Palfety.

I, Randy Bailey, leave all of my party responsibilities to the 11th graders.

I, David Kitchin, leave my ability to drive to Russell Latura.

I, Heater Steen, leave Heather Repinski a real life.

I, Shana Davenport, leave my freedom and a free trip to Florida to Alan Willis.

I, Laura Lemieux, leave my driving ability to Russell Latuca and I leave my charm and my ability to get good grades to my younger brother Bobby.

I, Matthew Gile, leave my seat in Upper House Guidance to anybody!

I, Peter Sokolich, leave my mean Vega to Wayne Holder.

I, Turiya Manheimer, leave my physics cards (my "life") to next years class and I also plan to dedicate all future homemade cupcakes to Andy Frey in memory of our fruitcupism.

I, Cindy Johnson, leave my ability to make people laugh to Allison Ionnetti.

I, Michelle Pedone, leave my legs to Tamara Pedone.

I, Kelly Dezero, leave my ability to push Tracy around in a wheelchair to anybody that can handle it and I also leave my cheering ability to Nancie Decker.

I, Michael Durkee, leave my musical ability to the Junior Band.

I, Christie Wisell, leave Laura O'Brien all alone on the bus next year.

I, Kristal King, leave my great driving ability to Sabrina Thomas.

I, Karla Vernon, leave my shocks to Michele B. and Michael A., and I also leave my B.C. to Rhonda W., Michele B., and Jessica G.

I, Jeffrey Philbrook, leave my car (and my skill to drive it and to fix it) to Bill Covell and I also leave my position on the bench to Ross.

I, Lisa English, leave my superb driving ability to Tim Jones.

I, Jessica Patten, leave Justing Smith my Vacuum cleaner, my sister Molly all alone, and Joe Phillips my space in the lunch line.

I, Wendy Ferrell, leave my great cheerleading skill to Penni Chuderski and I also leave my perfect eye-sight to L.C., who needs it desperately.

I, Julie Frederick, leave my brains to my brother Charlie.

I, Taralyn Crum, leave my senior year to all of my fellow Juniors.

"A Funeral For A Friend"; Seen Through

Dear Diary,

Boo hoo. Boy, I never thought it would happen to one of us. I have just returned from Alex Ball's funeral. I guess, as the story goes, he was gunned down by a group of feminist guerrillas while buying cigars in a Floridian tobacco shop. Poor old Alex. He went down whistling "Dixie".

It was really strange to see the old gang. Everyone has changed so much. I guess we're getting old. Boy, Diary, I have so much to tell you.

Jessica Patten has opened an insurance agency for accident prone scab drivers. Nan Parker, who filled me in on a lot of the dirt, bought-out Esprit and now caters to fashion-conscious bag ladies everywhere. Eric Bradly (what a hunk!) was February's centerfold for Sideburns Monthly. Stephanie Marquis joined NASA. They explored the final frontier where nothing had ever gone before - her mind. Leni Rone, in her quest to help irritating people everywhere, opened a local chapter of Squeezers Anonymous. Karen King made millions, although she destroyed her garage, by marketing a new aerosol hair product - Cheez Whiz. James Carr was voted last year's Solo Rob man (Joke, Joke, Joke, Joke, Joke). Mike Gallipo wasn't there. The Tank ran out of gas and is still sitting somewhere on Route 7; noone will pick poor Mike up. Tracy Vandenbuugh is now starring in the title role of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame", thanks to a donation by the McDonald's Foundation. Boy, I can't wait to see it! It's a shame that Matt Bidgood couldn't be there today. Nan said that his wife made him stay home and clean the house. Boy, he should stop being such a wimp. Carpie Carpenter started his own Rent-a-Buddy franchise. What a pal! Joel Borjun wasn't there either. It's really weird. They say that the Mexican UFO came back and beamed him up. Chris Cooper made billions in the disco circuit with his camera/calvin idea. It must have been pretty embarrassing for him today — the flash kept going off. That old jock Glen Cuttita must be pretty proud of himself. He has eshadowed M&M spitting as an Olympic event. Shannon Gibbs, talented guy, became lead singer of a new speed metal band (started by all of his friends) called "The Screaming Hairballs from Hell". Poor little Matt Gile. He giggled himself into absolute oblivion during the funeral and was forced to leave early. Scott Groggett is no longer with us (sob, sob). His car was mistaken for a green M&M and was devoured by a hysterical mob of chocoholics. Boy, this was news to me. Unbelievable! That clever Bill Merone kid opened a denim jacket factory specializing in KA rock group decals. I was so depressed after the funeral that I went out and bought two. I feel much better now. Dara Zuckernick, I am proud to say, has won the Nobel Prize for discovering the genetic make-up of a Big Mac. Someday I'll be able to tell my grandchildren that I knew that great woman. My old buddy

The Yearbook Staff's Crystal Ball

Cheryle Guyette has also made a few profound scientific discoveries. Thanks to her we now know that, when M&M's are placed in water, the M's float to the top. Where would we be without people like her? Joey Merrick has brought this little state of ours much glory. He is our first world champion mud puddle diver! Eli Pitts is now in the entertainment industry (wasn't he always?). He joined the circus as the Amazing Hairless Wonder and is in charge of the elephants. Five years ago, Wendy Savery went in search of Jim Morrison. She must have found him because noone has heard from her since. Frank Smith finally found himself a real job - shock testing stereo speakers. Keep jumping, Frank. Nate Snelling couldn't come. Rumor has it that he dropped his hair on the floor this morning and it shattered. He won't even leave his room now. Bryce Taylor developed a fantastic new Spot remover. While showing it to all of us at the funeral he disappeared. Pretty Creepy! Cara Burnett and Louise Upton finally made it big. They spend most of their time these days mud wrestling. I watch them every Monday night on channel 11 right after Mike "Bing-Bong the Bruiser" Bingham's boxing matches. He has improved his record drastically. It's now 0-32. What a guy. Chris Knipes is in the hospital now. I guess that he heard a faint beep. Thinking that it was the beeper on his lost keys he ran blindly. Well, the beep came from the digital watch shop across the street. Poor Chris didn't even see the truck coming. Brett Marquis and his faithful followers bought a Volleswagon bus and are now touring with the hope of spreading the dead-head philosophy everywhere. Good luck, guys! Glen Grusmark had to stay behind and work. You can fire him Monday - Friday, 9-5, giving driving lessons in the Aimes parking lot.

Boy, Diary, am I getting tired. Today was such a busy day. Don't worry, though. I will have lots to write tomorrow night. There's a big wedding tomorrow. Melissa Weinrebe and Jeff Hance are finally tying the knot. It's about time. Melissa has just had triplets - one of each. Too bad Alex won't be around to see this. I'm sure he would have been very amused.

Good night, Diary.

Mr. Dean Houghton, Principal

Congratulations to the Class of 1987

An unknown person once said the following, "Today an education is more important than yesterday. Tomorrow it will be more important than today. You are the world of tomorrow. You will be our leaders, our teachers, our craftsmen, our technicians. You will be our doctors, our lawyers, our criminals. Choose your path into tomorrow with care. Success in school predicts success in your world of tomorrow."

This is a very appropriate message as you graduate from high school. I know that everyone has worked hard to prepare you for a successful future. The entire staff wishes you the best.

Mill River Teacher Wins National Award

Mr. Pluta has achieved a great honor this year. Through excellence in teaching math he has won the Presidential Award for outstanding math teacher. There was only one math teacher chosen from Vermont. For the award, he received an all expense paid trip to Washington D.C. and a computer. Mill River also got $5000 as a part of the award.

Mr. Pluta graduated from UVM with a B.S. degree, and he got a Master's degree from St. Michaels College. He married Miss Baker this year and has two children.

British Student Spends Senior Year At MR

Dawn Jenkinson came to Vermont during the 1987 school year as an exchange student from Matlock, Derbyshire, England. She stayed with Mr. and Mrs. King, parents of Kristal King. Dawn is a senior and is 17 years old. She likes to read, shop, sew, draw, swim, cook, and eat (Ben and Jerry's of course!) Her main activity at Mill River was Stage 40 and she also was this year's Pumpkin Princess.

Dawn says that she came to America as an exchange student because she had visited a couple of times before but always felt like a tourist. This time, though, it was different; she experienced the American lifestyle and found it to be quite a difference from life back home in England.

After high school Dawn is going to the Tante Marie School of Cookery. After that she plans to work at EPCOT Center for about a year and then get a job as a stewardess with Briton Airway.

Summing it all up Dawn said, "Truthfully, my year here has not only been an adventure, but also a challenge and I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has made my stay here the most enjoyable year of my life so far, and I hope that you will all keep in touch. I will be back!" We hope that she will too.

JV Boys Soccer

Varsity Boys Soccer

Under the direction of their new coach, Mr. Slack, the boy's varsity soccer team had a good season. They finished season play with a 8-5-1 record, only to lose to Harwood. There were many bright moments however. Frank Smith was named to the MVL soccer team. Captained by senior Brett Marquis, the team will lose sixteen seniors next year.

From left to right: Front Row: T. Maynard, B. Gile, D. Allen, W. Holder, B. Marquis, G. Cuttitta, T. Knapp, M. Gile. Second Row: J. Philbrook, M. Gallipo, G. Lord, S. Poissant, W. Fabian, D. Stout, R. Ferguson. Third Row: J. Roach, C. Johnson, M. Ferrell, B. Taylor, F. Smith, J. Merick, R. Carpenter, B. Baker, E. Bradley, Coach Slack.

The year's junior varsity girl's soccer team was a hard working one. In the words of their fine coach, Mr. Probst, "they faced many obstacles and they overcame them through their dedication and perseverance." We hope that the team will furnish many fine future varsity players. The players are: First Row: J. Winkopp, S. Constantino, A. Baker, S. Huber, H. Austin, K. Campbell, J. Cyr, D. Korzun, A. Seward, C. Luvullo. Second Row: N. Wilkins, J. Reay, C. Casey, T. Ryan, L. French, A. Wortman, C. Holden. Third Row: J. Patten, M. Saportito, A. Bemis, S. Weatherby, T. Bushee, K. Adams, C. JV

Soccer

This was the first year that girl's soccer was a league sport. The girls had such enthusiasm and talent for this new sport that they made it all the way to the playoffs this year!!! Led by seniors, Cara Burnett, Steph Danyow, and Louise Upton, the team put in long hours of hard work and practice. They defeated many teams with much more experience, and they did it through teamwork and ambition. The team is to be commended for their accomplishments. They have earned the praise!!!

RESOURCE CENTER

The Resource Center, affectionately called the R.C., is the center of social life at Mill River. At almost any time of the day you can find people studying, talking, sleeping, or veging out in the Resource Center. The person who oversees all of this activity is Mrs. Cuttita. She stands at her desk all day, ready and willing to aid a person in need of help with their report on drunk driving or to shush a rowdy group of seniors who are trying to sneak food past her sharp eyes. As you can see, going to the R.C. is not without its perils however, for there is always the threat of being "sent back to the dreaded study hall." The Resource Center serves many functions for many people. Like they always say, "Never judge a book by its cover."

PEER COUNSELING

Peer Counseling is a program designed to teach counseling skills to students so that they may effectively assist classmates who face a variety of problems. They meet weekly to discuss counseling skills and to serve as a support group for each other. The members are: L to R, First Row: Nikki Wilkins, Charlene Palley, Jody Burton, Dawn Bodette. Second Row: Launa O'Brien, Kris Lovullo. Third Row: Stephanie Rockwell, Jennifer Winkopp, Salal Huber. Fourth Row: Missy Reed, Stacey Wetherby, Monika Bowen, Sabrina Kurant, Bethany Weaver, Tracy Keeler, Dara Heitzke. Fifth Row: Matt Roy, Gretchen Gettel, Sheila McClure, Jessica Patteet, Melissa Weinreber, Nate Snelling, and Andrea Frey.

CHAMBER SINGERS

The Chamber Singers are a group of talented students who rehearse early in the morning. One of the highlights of their season is the singing valentines where groups of four or five go out into the school and community and sing songs for a small fee. They also perform in school concerts and many of the members go to All-States. The singers include: L to R, First Row: Jason Hadden, Brian Tift, Jody Burton, Kathy Fiorino, Matt Mangels, Leslie Erb. Second Row: Stacey Wetherby, Bill Donaldson, Bryce Taylor, Jillian Austin, Matt Roy, Thom Carvey, Catherine Watson, Gretchen Gettel, Wendy Savery, Mike Gallipo, and Stephanie Marquis.

NHS

The National Honor Society is a group of students who have obtained outstanding achievement both in and out of school. Guided by their fearless leader, that master of wit, Mr. Harlow, the group earns money for annual Christmas baskets to be distributed among the needy in the community. They also put on movies for the school and planned a basketball tournament which was held in the spring. NHS members are: L to R, First Row: Melissa Weinreber, Jeni Rothe, Dara Zuckernick, Karen King. Second Row: Matt Amstein, Kim Wilson, Roy Carpenter, Jennifer Merrill, Chris Cooper. Third Row: Cheryle Guyette, Wendy Savery, Joel Korzun, Jeff Guyette, Bryce Taylor, Matt Bidgood, Mike Gallipo, Peter Socholich, and Bill Mersne. Mr. Harlow, though not there in body when this photograph was taken, was with us in mind and spirit. He was last seen in a small boat chasing after Moby Dick screaming "42!"

CHESS TEAM

The Chess Team is a group of students who enjoy playing chess. They meet weekly to learn new moves and to compete with each other. They participated in the state tournament and in May of 1986 they won at the Jr. High level. The members are: L to R, Front Row: Brent Chartrand, Russel Chance, Shawn Carroll. Second Row: Daniel Watson, Gregory Gettel, Chuck Regula, William Buschbaum. Missing: Steve Dzewiczewski, Aaron Auer, Matt Roy, Craig Martel, and Gretchen Gettel.

MATH COUNTS

Math Counts is a group of Lower House students who have good math skills. Each year they improve their math abilities and then test their wits in annual competitions. They have lots of fun and it helps them learn, too. The members are: L to R, First Row: Amy Hart, Brent Chartrand, Gary Alderdice. Second Row: Kristin Kinne, Beth Kinne, Steve Dzewiczewski, Peter Stephans, Shawn Carroll. Third Row: Kelsey Stevenson, Russell Chance, Daniel Watson, Greg Gettel, Liz Kelley.

GMTI

The Green Mountain Teen Institute is made up of about eight students who attended a one week summer institute in Drug and alcohol abuse prevention techniques. At Mill River, they meet weekly to work with individual students and with the nurse. The members include: L to R, Front Row: Sabrina Kurant, Kris Lovullo, Charlene Palley. Second Row: Andrea Frey, and Matt Roy. Missing: Tracy Vandenburgh, Lynette Farrington, and Kyle Jacobsen.

Students Against Drunk Driving

Mill River Students Take Aim At Drunk Driving

SADD stands for Students Against Drunk Driving. It was started by Robert Anastus when two of his promising hockey players were killed by drunk drivers.

The goals of SADD are: trying to eliminate drunk drivers to save lives, alert students about the dangers of alcohol, and to form peer counseling groups to help students with concerns about alcohol.

A SADD chapter at Mill River was started this year. So far, the chapter has distributed Contracts For Life to the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. The contract is an agreement between a teenager and his/her parent that both will seek a safe trip home if alcohol is involved. Regional SADD members presented a booth on the Mill River health day where they sold T-shirts, buttons, and balloons. They also had demonstrations and movies by the police cadets. SADD also sponsored the refreshments.

Mill River's SADD group is just getting started this year, but they hope to become more active in preventing drunk driving and alcohol abuse in the future.

SKI TEAM

THE MOOSE IS LOOSE

Bullwinkle and Jessica

What has brown hair, weighs 700 lbs., and brought Shrewsbury national attention during 1986? The answer . . . Bullwinkle the moose.

In late October, Bullwinkle came out of Parker's Gore looking for love. He found it in a hefty heifer named Jessica. Apparently her red hair and brown eyes had caught his attention; leaving Bullwinkle awe-struck for weeks after. Our hero followed Jessie around trying to win her over, yet all was to no avail.

Public interest in this story, however, was fast and far-reaching. The farm of Larry Carrara, where Jessica lived, was beset by over 50,000 visitors and hundreds of phone calls. A disc jockey from Australia even phoned the farm to hear the scoop on the love affair.

National papers and network news carried the story across the country. Shrewsbury, thanks to Bullwinkle, was famous.

All of this attention gave members of "Friends of Parker's Gore" the publicity they needed to air their protest against the Killington Corporation. Killington wished to expand its ski area into the gore, and many residents of Shrewsbury fought back. The moose episode, they felt, was a miracle for their cause.

How did it all turn out? You, the reader, know better than we do. At the time of this writing, Bullwinkle was still trying to win over the cow's heart; yet she continued playing hard to get.

Girls' State Governor

In the spring of 1986, Jeni Rohe earned a great honor. She was elected to the position of Governor of Girls' State. Jeni participated in the program with many other girls from all over the state of Vermont, and won the title of Governor. This title is the highest obtainable position at the conference.

Jeni will hold this position until the spring of 1987 when she will inaugurate a successor from the representatives of the class of 1988.

Jeni's election was a first for Mill River. Never before have we had a representative from our school elected Governor of the Girls' State Convention. Congratulations, Jeni.

At first there was shy embarrassment, accompanied by wistful moans of "Why are we doing this?" Yet, by the end of the week, most students in Phys. Ed. were enjoying "dos-a-dos-ing." "At least," as one student exclaimed, "it beats taking fitness tests." With the patient aiding and abetting of Mr. Seward and Mrs. Bouchard, however, the utter chaos eventually transformed into only mild confusion. Low and behold, students had expanded their cultural horizons whether they liked it or not.

SPIRIT 1987 was a new book. It had a new staff — only 1 returned from the year before, a new cover — designed by Cheryle Guyette and Gretchen Gettel, and a new set of ideas — contributed by all involved. Within these covers I hope that you will see some of the zaniness and creativity that was SPIRIT 1987. I have enjoyed working on this year's staff and hope that you have as much fun reading this book as I did working with the terrific group of people who put it all together.

CANDID LIFE AT MILL RIVER

A yearbook should be more than just pictures of student activities; it should reflect the character of the people of the school and how they lived each day. This is what we hoped to accomplish in SPIRIT 1987 by reserving a special section just for student photography. The next seven pages that follow try to capture life at Mill River as seen by its students. We on the yearbook staff hope that you will enjoy seeing how your fellow students pictured their 1987 school year.

And So They Were Eighteen

They will not return home in answer to your ardent pleas.
Nor respond to your tears, your shock, your heartbreak.

Only the pain of existence, withdrawal, poverty and hurt
Will exert the solid reason it will take.

So beg not and plead not for rational behavior and reason.
And, above all, refrain from the bite of wrath.

Rather, pray they endure real hunger, frustration and loneliness.
Then pain assuredly will show them the path.

Once home – dispatch your recriminations and display only love
For it, untainted by angry words must reign.

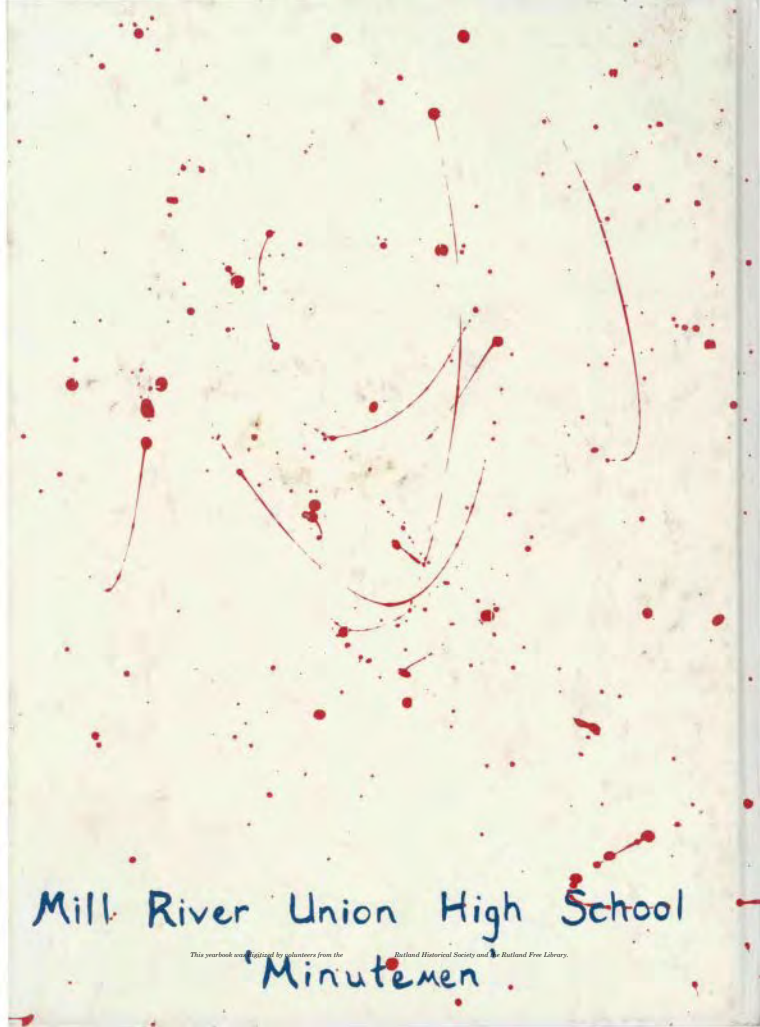

For it's love alone that presents your child God's greatest freedom.
But, at times, love can only be seen through a mist of pain.

We, ourselves, must endure pain in birth, pain in life, and pain in maturity.
